FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Combined Joint Task Force – Operation Inherent Resolve
Civilian Casualty Assessment

SOUTHWEST ASIA – This is the first publication of the CJTF-OIR Civilian Casualty Report since August 2021. This report is released as part of the commitment by the U.S. government to increased transparency and accountability.

On Jan. 27, the U.S. Secretary of Defense Lloyd J. Austin III issued a memorandum directing the creation of a Civilian Harm Mitigation and Response Action Plan (CHMRAP). The CHMRAP will advance our ongoing efforts to improve the Department’s approach to civilian harm mitigation and response, and will inform completion of a forthcoming DoD Instruction (DoDI) on Civilian Harm Mitigation and Response.

The Coalition follows a rigid targeting process for all of our strikes to ensure strict adherence to the Law of Armed Conflict while minimizing the impact of our operations on civilian populations and infrastructure. Every accidental loss of life is tragic, and it will remain our goal to take feasible precautions to avoid putting civilians in danger in our pursuit of a ruthless enemy.

In the recent months, CJTF-OIR completed the transition to an advising, assisting, and enabling mission. We remain committed to supporting our Iraqi partner forces in the continued defeat of Daesh. Our mission in Syria remains the continued defeat of ISIS by advising, assisting, and enabling vetted local partner forces, including the Syrian Democratic Forces. Moving forward, we will continue to periodically release these reports.

Since the beginning of operations in 2014, the Coalition and partner forces have liberated nearly 110,000 square kilometers (42,471 square miles) from Daesh, eliminating their self-proclaimed territorial caliphate and freeing 7.7 million people from Daesh oppression. The Coalition will continue to work with partner forces to deny Daesh any physical space and influence in the region as well as deny Daesh the resources they need to resurge.

The Coalition conducted at least 35,045 strikes between August 2014 and December 2021. CJTF-OIR assesses that, since the beginning of Operation Inherent Resolve in August 2014, at least 1,437 civilians have been unintentionally killed by Coalition actions during combat operations against ISIS.

Since our last publication in August 2021, CJTF-OIR closed 69 reports, received one new report, and carried over 37 open reports from previous months.
It is important to note that, while the Coalition has a substantial quantity of data at its disposal to assess whether civilian casualties may have resulted from our operations, we welcome any information from any source that will enable us to better understand the outcomes of our operations. Furthermore, we routinely reopen closed assessments based on new information that might help us attain more accurate results. Below is a breakdown of the recently closed reports – credible, non-credible, and duplicate – and open reports within CJTF-OIR.

Credible Reports: In these ten incidents, CJTF-OIR assessed that the Coalition took feasible precautions and the decision to strike complied with the law of armed conflict. Coalition forces work diligently to be precise during the planning and execution of airstrikes to reduce the risk of harm to civilians.
