

Camp Taji, Iraq – Partnering with Iraqi Forces

An Australian soldier with Task Group Taji conducts an after action review (AAR) with Iraqi partners during training at Camp Taji, Iraq, Nov. 3, 2015.

Iraqi soldiers participate in a cumulative training event with U.S. paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne Division at Camp Taji, Iraq, April 16, 2015.

Camp Taji, Iraq – Partnering with Iraqi Forces

An Australian soldier with Task Group Taji conducts bayonet training with ISF partners at Camp Taji, Iraq, Jan. 3, 2016.

An Australian soldier with Task Group Taji navigates an obstacle course with his Iraqi partner, Camp Taji, Iraq, Feb. 17, 2016.

Camp Taji, Iraq – Partnering with Iraqi Forces

An Australian soldier views targets for his Iraqi partner during marksmanship training at Camp Taji, Iraq, Oct. 15, 2017.

British soldiers with the Royal Electrical and Mechanical Engineers conduct vehicle maintenance and engine replacement at Camp Taji, Iraq, March 2, 2020.

Camp Taji, Iraq – Partnering with Iraqi Forces

Qwat al Khasah soldiers, the Iraqi Special Forces, conduct a bunker clearing exercise to prepare for a mission with members of the United States Special Operations Force at Camp Taji, Iraq March 7, 2020.

Qwat Al-Khasah soldiers prepare for a training mission with Coalition special operations forces at Camp Taji, Iraq March 6, 2020.

Camp Taji, Iraq – Transfer to Iraqi partners

U.S. Army Soldiers load wooden beams in preparation for the transfer of the Ammunition Supply Point at Camp Taji, Iraq August 14, 2020.

Unloading supplies and Ammunition divested to Iraqi Security Forces. During 2020, more than $15 million of ammunition was delivered to the ISF at Camp Taji, Iraq.

Camp Taji, Iraq – Transfer to Iraqi partners

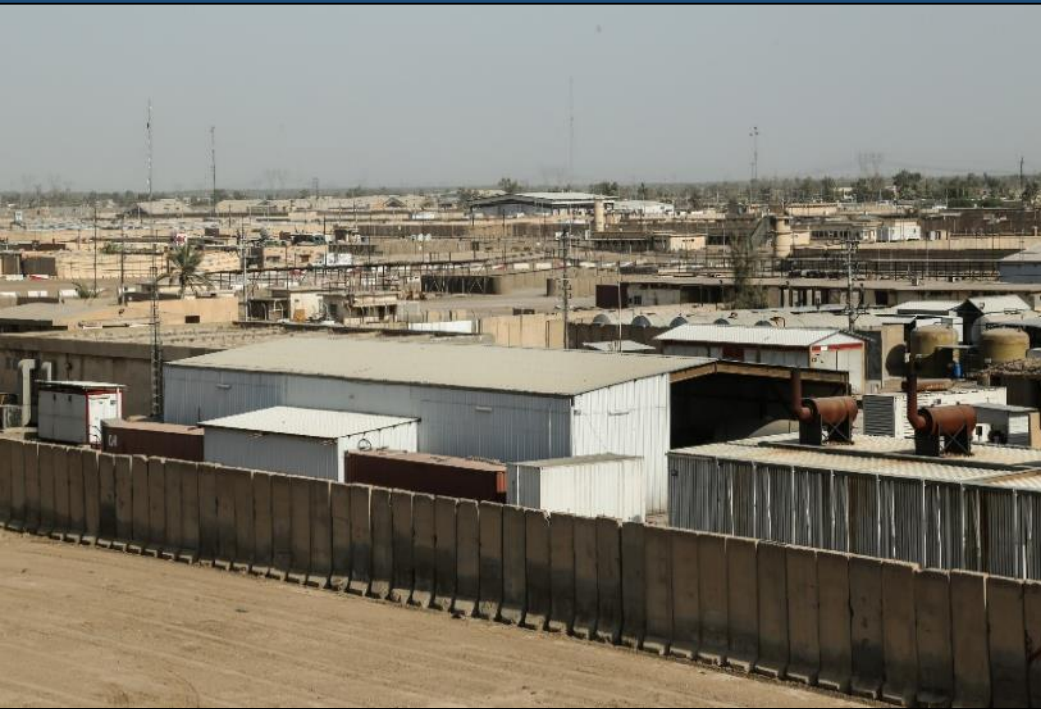

Brig. Gen. Salah (right), deputy commander of the Prime Minister's National Operations Center and U.S. Army Col. Gregory D. Fix, senior Coalition representative at Camp Taji, exchange documents during the transfer ceremony of the Ammunition Supply Point to the Iraqi Government at Camp Taji, Iraq, August 16, 2020.

U.S. Army Soldiers with 834th Aviation Support Battalion prepare equipment at Taji, July 18, 2020, prior to the base's transfer to the Government of Iraq.

Camp Taji, Iraq – Transfer to Iraqi partners

Samples of facilities and equipment transferred to Iraqis at Camp Taji, Iraq. The Coalition is departing small compounds inside Iraqi bases as part of long-planned adjustments to the force, due to Iraqi Security Forces' success in the campaign against Daesh. (U.S. Army photos by Sgt. Tescia Mims)